Organization Statement

Roslyn Co-op is an early childhood school that begins with our two-year-old program and continues through Pre-K. We follow a play-based philosophy that recognizes play as an essential part of young children's learning and development. Our classrooms incorporate sensory-based instruction, language-enriched lessons, and hands-on experiences that encourage children to explore, discover, and learn at their own pace. Through meaningful play and engaging activities, we nurture each child's creativity and imagination while supporting their social, emotional, cognitive, and language development in a warm and supportive environment.

Job Description

Head Teachers facilitate a successful separation starting at 2 years old. Our two-year-old classroom is thoughtfully designed to encourage sensory exploration, fine motor development, artistic experimentation, and dramatic play. Learning is extended outside of the classroom with time on our well-equipped playgrounds.
